Universal Media Player downloader for Mac. Finds your favorite MP3 files on your computer and creates a complete playlist of them with a single click. Enjoy your music! KEYMACRO is a revolutionary, new download manager. It works on Mac OS X Leopard 10.5, Snow Leopard 10.6 and Mavericks 10.9.3 and is optimized for iTunes 11. Special Features: KEYMACRO is easy-to-use, dynamic and advanced at the same time. KeyMacro will automatically detect your favorite music files and creates a playlist based on those files. You can easily select all or part of those files for automatic download or let KEYMACRO find them for you. You can automatically set how frequently a file needs to be downloaded, and whether the download should start immediately or be deferred. It can also automatically look for updates to your music and switch between them without losing your place. The system preferences can be easily set. Pairing your iPhone with KEYMACRO is simple. You can always see what your friends are listening to. Even when you are connected to a wireless network at your place or at another, you can still transfer music. You can tell KEYMACRO to download only the missing parts of a file that are not stored locally. You can use the remote control to switch between the playlists stored locally and remotely on your computer and on your mobile device. Do you know that you can update your playlist even if you are streaming music? If a file is missing locally, you can fill it manually and it will be processed the next time the music is played. And so much more. Feedback: If you have any issues with the program or want to see a specific feature in action, please send me an email with your feedback.
